

Public involvement key findings: travel time tolerance

We often refer to Syracuse as a “20-Minute City,” but our 2011 questionnaire showed that is only true for less than 25% of us and that overall, the residents of our region could support a slight increase in overall travel time in the Syracuse region in the future.

Current travel time in the Syracuse region

Tolerable future travel time

Tolerable change in travel time

